THE COVER

The special mix of the local climate and the variety of the depths of the lakes in the Geneva Lake area have earned its recognition as the 'Ice Boat Center of the World;' its frozen surface has been host to many national and international championships in the sport.

I-376, On The Rocks VII, a Boe-Craft skeeter built locally, was last owned and sailed by Burly Brellenthin, who retired this year. Brellenthin began his 'hard water' career at the age of fourteen, and in spite of a few absent years in the service, sailed for 77 years on Geneva Lake, spreading the joy of the sport to hundreds of enthusiasts.

GENEVA LAKE ASSOCIATION, INC.

With the approval of the four communities around the lake, the Geneva Lake Association several years ago erected a number of Lake Path signs where the walking public enters onto private land. In 2013, the GLA Board of Directors replaced those signs. Some had deteriorated, and improvements were made to the message. In 2014 GLA volunteers took photos with GPS coordinates of the 21 signs and indicated their placements on the map on pages 36-37. A few more signs have been erected since. The wording of these attractively painted wood signs, mounted on steel or wood posts, is shown above.

We are all aware that the public, by tradition of well over 100 years, is allowed to walk the shore path completely around the lake, even though it passes over private property. Most people respect the privilege and are very careful not to violate the trust given them by lake shore property owners.

We know, however, that there are abuses by a few, sometimes because they are not aware of the implied rules. The signs, strategically located on the walking path, remind the public of what is allowed and what is not permitted.

Lake Path signs are available to home owners or property owner associations at cost, subject to the approval of GLA.
